FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WHITE MARSH MODULAR BUILDING EXECUTIVE NAMED AMONG STATE'S TOP HIGH-ACHIEVING WOMEN

White Marsh Company Co-Founder to be Honored May 3rd at the Meyerhoff

White Marsh, MD, April 27, 2010 – Kathy E. Wilmot, co-founder and co-owner of award-winning Wilmot Modular Structures is being recognized for her business leadership and her service in the community.

Mrs. Wilmot is among 100 high-achieving women being honored for the impact of their leadership in a ceremony Monday, May 3rd at the Meyerhoff Symphony Hall in Baltimore.

On learning of her selection, Mrs. Wilmot said “It’s a true honor to be recognized and named along with women that I admire so much in our state.”

She noted that, “Their outstanding achievements through professional accomplishment and leadership are great examples for young women who will one day be the influencers in our community.”

In addition to her role as vice president of the modular building company she operates with her husband Mike, Mrs. Wilmot serves in leadership roles on the board of a number of nonprofit organizations, including Maggie’s Light Foundation, which she helped found. Maggie’s Light provides funding for respite care for families with special needs children and young adults.

Board member, Susan Stewart pointed out that as chairperson of the nonprofit, Mrs. Wilmot “leverages her business savvy to help the organization succeed. When she is committed to something, it is 110%.”

Wilmot Modular Structures, located in White Marsh, MD, provides rapid space solutions for commercial users, government agencies, health care organizations, private schools, religious organizations and for emergency shelter needs. Founded in 1989, the company leases and sells modular buildings, construction site trailers and storage containers throughout the U.S.

Maryland’s 100 Top Women Award is presented by The Daily Record newspaper. The award recognizes outstanding achievement by women as demonstrated through professional accomplishment, community leadership and mentoring.
