Duratemp wood Siding, Singled angled mansard with roof drains and downspouts, EPDM Rubber roofing, Central Heating & Air conditioning with CRV kits, Light gauge steel doors with panic hardware and emergency/exit lights and signs. Vinyl covered gypsum walls, carpeting and fluorescent lighting.

Background:

This classroom was designed for St. Maximilian Kolbe Church in West Chester, Pa. They were in the process of building a new school and were in desperate need for one additional Pre-k and Kindergarten classroom. To maintain a distinguished look and feel the new modular classroom matched in color to their existing facilities. A shingled angled mansard was also designed to give a more permanent appearance.
